Some Japanese lately arrived at Hilo introduced to the local people the idea of attending school and not to toil in the canefields.

More than two hundred Portuguese left in the Alameda. It is said an expectation or promise of $3 a day for the men in California caused the fitting. Only a very few families of those lately arrived in the steamer Suverio were among the departing party.

Extracts from the log of the British ship Claverton show that C. Ahrens, sailmaker, was in trouble all the voyage from Tacoma to Honolulu, including the vessel's stops at Antofagasta and Kahului. He is one of the two members of the crew now awaiting trial here for attempting to burn the ship at this port.

Dr. Brinckerhoff is making changes in the plans of the proposed leprosy hospital at Molokai, if possible to bring construction within the appropriation. The plans were based on the cost of material and labor two years ago. It was intended to appropriate $75,000 to buildings and $25,000 to equipment. The bids were as follows for construction alone: John Duggan, $123,502; Lucas Bros., $180,522; H. De Fries, 204,000.

The Board of Health trip to Molokai has been postponed for a week on account of the weather.

It is said 300 Portuguese will leave here in next Alameda. Good wages in San Francisco's rebuilding are the attraction.

Mr. Johnson from Portland has reported to the police the taking of two $50 greenbacks from his clothes while he slept at a lodging house on Wednesday night.

U. S. Marshal Hendry returned from Maui yesterday with two prisoners taken for the uttering of counterfeit gold coin. They are a Chinese named Leong and a Korean named Kam Chong Pat. No coming plant had been located, but Mr. Taylor of the Federal secret service remained on Maui to continue the search. Bogsus $10 pieces, dangerously well executed, are in the Marshal's possession.

Adjourned until Friday 10 a. m.

SCHOOL AGE UNCHANGED

compulsory school age from fifteen to eighteen years was adversely reported on by the Education committee and tabling recommended.

Alana defended his measure, arguing that there could be no such thing as too much education.

Long explained that the committee had asked for a tabling of the bill for one reason, that being the content of the territorial schools.

The age of eighteen was too high, most parents with large families being unable to keep their children in school until they were nineteen years old.

Kalelopa wanted the Hawaiian members to consider the bill well, which had many good features. There had been formerly a question of requiring new buildings for additional pupils, but this was no longer a question, as the Territory was already spending hundreds of thousands of dollars on new school buildings. In 1876 there was no age limit and the result is that the school pupils of those days are holding high positions now, one of them being the present honorable speaker of the House.

The boys now can get no positions, being found on the waterfront or peddling newspapers. Panahoa, St. Louis and Kamehameha are turning out pupils who gain good positions in the government. So far as the white people are concerned they can send their children to private school and to the mainland, but the Hawaiians can not. Therefore he favored the tabling of the bill.

Long explained that there was nothing in the law to prevent anyone going to the public schools until they were fifty if they so desired, but to make the age limit compulsory would be an injustice on many parents.

Kalelopa took issue with this and charged his desk in his surprise at the honorable member from the fourth. The statement that parents may send their children to school after they have reached sixteen years is not so. This might be true of private schools, for the speaker himself had been at St. Louis until he was twenty-six. Now the public school pupils are only about four feet high and didn't have the appearance of children who would ever get into government positions. This question was a serious one for Hawaiians and he urged the tabling of the bill.

Long explained that the bill would grow up to be great and good men like the Hon. Mr. Hughes and Mr. Rice.

This delicate matter failed to win Rice's support, however, who moved to adopt the report.

Long quoted statistics to show that now there were over 500 pupils attending the territorial schools over 16 years of age.

Sheldon, speaking as a Hawaiian, said he would like to support the bill but could not do so. He believed in children going to school as long as possible, but not in their attendance being compulsory.

Alana thought that a vote for his bill would prove that all the members wished to see Hawaiians educated up to the standard of other lands. The speaker pointed to himself as an example of what a Hawaiian could rise to if he only went to school long enough.

The bill was accordingly tabled by a rising vote of 9 to 10.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Kalelopa asked that the Public Lands committee be excused, as the members had arranged to go to Oahu on committee business. This request brought down upon him a rebuke from the speaker for arranging an excursion during the session of the House.

The withdrawal of the members of the committee might result in the loss of a quorum and a holding up of the session. The committee then adjourned until next day and left their trip for the time being.

THE COUNTY SALARY BILL.

The report of the committee of the House on the amendments to the County Act, which fixes county salaries, was read and passed, since reported upon before being reported to the House.

Senator Bill 44 was read down and was given its first reading.

SPECIAL ORDER OF THE DAY.

Corcoran's request for a recess because of interrupted sleep, was taken up by the House for a recess without any intervention of the Printing committee.

PROFESSION ETIQUETTE.

The practice of the members of the United States District Attorney's office in defending criminal cases in the territorial courts, a protest against which had been introduced into the House by Moenani, was brought up on the order of the day.

Rice, as an executive member of the bar association, said that the association has never had time to get a communication before the House and asked for a deferring of action upon it for another week. This was granted.

A petition for a new road was read from the homesteaders of Kaula, Puna. The road is to run from the Puna road two miles to the Kaula homesteads, and will cost $4000. The petition was presented by Kahana and referred to the Public Lands committee.

Afternoon Session.

The Department of Public Works was heard from in regard to the Honolulu waterworks, the figures of which had been asked for. According to the figures submitted the running expenses have been:

1902 $45,687.15
1903 57,900.95
1904 58,520.81
1905 64,275.96

The amounts charged on the department's books as money charged for permanent improvements to the Honolulu waterworks on uncompleted contracts is $113,395.49, as follows:

1. M. Whitehouse—Reservoir No. 4, $67,269.23.
1. M. Whitehouse—Lockbar pipe, $9,224.00.

E. J. Loh—Effluent pipe for Reservoir No. 4, $15,490.00.
1. M. Whitehouse—20 per cent. reserve on Reservoir No. 4, $20,659.26.

Total, $113,395.49.

The amounts charged against permanent improvements are:

Reservoirs and sites, $123,354.40
Artesian wells, 49,704.00
Pipe system, 49,386.07
Buildings, 8,191.00
Pumping plants, 256,053.37

Total, $1,048,230.84

SENATE BILLS.

Senate Bills Nos. 125, 70, 67, 66 and 49 were received and all given a first reading.

FEDERAL PROPERTY.

Concurrent Resolution 6 was also given a first reading. This calls upon Congress to amend the Organic Act so that the title to public lands and property now held by the Federal government will be transferred to the Territory.

Rawlins spoke shortly in support of the resolution, pointing out the disadvantages experienced now in having to await the approval of Congress in dealing with them. The resolution passed.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The Finance committee reported on Kalana's House Bill 125, the object of which is to prolong for one year the charging of interest on taxes that have become delinquent. The report recommended the indefinite postponement of the consideration of the bill, which places a premium on delinquency and the evils that follow it.

A favorable report was presented on the same member's bill to have the Territory pay a deputy assessor five per cent. commission on taxes paid to him in addition to his salary.

Senator Chillingworth's bill providing for refunding the bonded indebtedness of the Territory, was recommended for passage.

Each of these reports was adopted.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

Kalana introduced an act amending the present Sunday observance law. The proposed measure enlarges the present act by the clauses following:

"This act shall not be construed to permit the sale of fruit, tobacco, cigars, ice cream or soda water in stores or places dealing in other merchandise," and

"This act shall not be construed as permitting the conducting of any show, theater, circus or entertainment on Sunday for pay, or to which an admission charge is made."

WHARF INVESTIGATION.

A joint resolution asking for a committee from the Senate and House to investigate the condition of the wharves of the Territory and report on the same was passed. The House adjourned at 2:30, considerably earlier than usual.

ENCOURAGING NEWS OF FRANK L. WINTER

With reference to a report published yesterday afternoon that Frank L. Winter's condition was very serious and that he was not expected to live, the Advertiser has been informed that the latest cablegram as well as a letter received by Mrs. Winter from her husband's physician was very encouraging.

Mr. Winter, who is chief office deputy of the U. S. Marshal here, left for the Coast two months ago to receive medical treatment for Bright's disease with complications.

WOUNDS, BRUISES AND BURNS.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without medication and in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also relieves the pain and soreness and prevents the danger of blood poisoning. For sale by Dr. H. H. Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

LOS ANGELES

the visitors called on, with reference to the commercial features of the excursion. He said this was a hard thing for him to take hold of, the string of things. He had been sold himself over and over again all the way down. Judge Haysden here told a Missouri story, which evoked great mirth, to illustrate what he thought of Hawaiian hospitality. In the past Los Angeles had not very intimate relations with any other city than San Francisco, but the present occasion gave promise of something different. He believed that if the people here assured some of their sugar freight, a regular line of steamers between Southern California and Hawaii could be organized within six months. Los Angeles was growing rapidly. It was one of the leading cities of the Pacific Coast and aimed at nothing less than to be the leading city. He thought no city could show a more rapid growth than had Los Angeles within the past few years. "No pent-up Ulica contracts our powers, a whole unbound continent is ours," and the next place we are going to grasp is Hawaii.

Mr. Allen paid a compliment to the press of Hawaii, as he called on the representatives of the three Honolulu dailies present for remarks.

THE NEWSPAPER MEN.

W. R. Farrington of the Bulletin told of his observations of the Los Angeles visitors on their arrival at Hilo, attended with a shower of oranges, and on their trip to the volcano, some incidents as he described them causing great mirth. An observer's remark on a kicker at Hilo convinced the company: "You Los Angeles people just skin a tourist as well as their pleasures."

Charles L. Rhodes of the Star said our satisfaction in their being here was only their satisfaction in having been here. He hoped they did have a good time. He quoted the remark a lady made to him once when he was about leaving for California "Oh, how nice you are going to Los Angeles!" to show how the people of that city regard Los Angeles as all California.

Concluding he reiterated the welcome of Hawaii and earnestly bespoke an increase of the intimacy with Southern California so happily inaugurated.

G. G. JOHNSON HEARD.

G. G. Johnson was called on as a real estate man of Los Angeles. He was reminded by the remarks of the pressmen of a saying common in the old crinoline days, that the world was ruled by the pulpit, the press and the petticoat. With a humorous reference to the volcano, which suggested to him that the prices of real estate should be raised, he eloquently spoke of the enjoyment the islands had afforded them from the hour of their arrival. He could only have wished that the days here were twenty-four hours of daylight, for ever since they had come he had felt there were twenty-four hours of enjoyment to every day. Mr. Johnson concluded with an invitation to the people of Honolulu to return the visit of the Los Angeles people. He quoted the lines:

"The longest day's in June they say,
The shortest in December.
They did not come to me that way.
The shortest I remember
You came and spent the day with me,
And filled my heart with laughter.
The longest day, you went away—
The very next day after."

CONCLUDING REMARKS.

R. H. Trent, being called on for "money" in allusion to his county treasurer's position, responded with a comical medley of Honolulu's dialects formed into a greeting, which ended the speechmaking but for a few eloquent closing remarks by the toastmaster.

Mr. Allen, whose introductions of other speakers were gems of speech, summed up the sentiments of the hosts of the evening and concluded by inviting the Honolulu people to visit Los Angeles. "We will try to give you the Hawaiian word Aloha," was his parting salute.

Mr. Herron proposed three cheers for Honolulu, which the Los Angeles gave with resounding vim, and at Mr. Farrington's proposal the compliment was vigorously returned by the Honoluluans.

Then the party adjourned to the parlor to be entertained a while with dancing by geisha girls.

DOUBTFUL STATUS OF IMMIGRATION

No more steamships will be chartered by the Board of Immigration to bring Europeans here until it is definitely advised from Washington that more assisted immigrants than those now recruited may be admitted under the amended law. The third ship chartered, the Kumerie, is expected to sail between April 25 and 30 with Spaniards and Portuguese to the number of about 2000.

Governor Carter, differing from some others, believes that the President's advice to him to go ahead with European immigration until otherwise instructed carries authority beyond the charter made on which he was consulted. Yesterday the governor suggested that he might call a special session of the Legislature to consider immigration matters should an emergency arise.

SCIATIC TORTURE

THAT YIELDED TO NOTHING BUT DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Locomotive Engineer Permanently Cured by These Pills After Ordinary Remedies Failed.

Pain that seems almost unbearable is a characteristic of sciatic rheumatism. In some cases the pain is knife-like, sharp or shooting; in others it is dull and aching. Sciatica is stubborn in resisting treatment and the patient frequently suffers for years. This was the case with Mr. Herbert E. Spaulding, a locomotive engineer on the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, whose home is at Longview, Texas. Mr. Spaulding endured the agonies of sciatica for two years in spite of all that ordinary remedies could do for him until he tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and was cured.

"While running an engine some years ago," he says, "I fell off and hurt my knee and spine and I have always considered this to be the cause of my illness. The sciatica took hold of me from my heel to the back of my head. The pain was the worst I ever suffered in my life and my leg and back were twisted out of shape. I was under a physician's care for several months and for six months could not get out of bed. I also went to Hot Springs but came back in a worse condition than when I went."

"It was when I was down in bed that I heard of the case of a Mr. Allison, a much older man than myself, who had been cured of sciatica by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking the pills and soon was able to get out of bed. When I had taken six boxes I was able to work about the house and yard. I kept right on with the pills until I was cured and I have never had any return of the trouble. I have been running an engine ever
